

Welcome to Our Youth Health Corps for 2006-07

The Health Center is excited to welcome some of the new members of the Youth Health Corps ~ TeenBEAT program. These participants are from the Wai'anae High School Health Academy and will be spending their school year providing tobacco education activities in the community and shadowing staff working in the Health Center's clinics.

Do you...

- Work as an outreach worker, social service aide, care aide, navigator, nutrition aide, client advocate or something similar?
- Educate clients about their health, their children, their rights, or available resources?
- Help people find community resources like housing, financial support, and medical care?
- Speak for clients who cannot speak for themselves

This is what a COMMUNITY HEALTH WORKER does!!!

Certified Community Health Workers earn $12 per hour or more!

How do you get certified??
