Another Successful Blood Drive

Health Center employee Iris Kaohe is proud to take part in the Center's blood drive knowing that she's playing an important part in helping to save lives. The Health Center has sponsored a blood drive twice a year for the past several years and the list of donors continues to grow. We thank the community and employees of the Health Center for their continuous support.

Want a HEALTHY pregnancy?

...Prepare your body BEFORE getting pregnant, its as easy as 1, 2, 3.

- 1. STOP the use of harmful substances like CIGARETTES, ALCOHOL and DRUGS
- 2. START taking a multivitamin that contains FOLIC ACID. Folic acid can help prevent birth defects of the spinal cord and brain.
- 3. MAINTAIN a health diet that includes foods like: green leafy vegetables (luau leaf, spinach), orange juice and beans.

If you are pregnant, start prenatal care early and keep all appointments.

For assistance in making an appointment you can call:

Main Center (Waianae) 696-7081 Nanakuli 668-2311
Kapolei 674-9352 Waipahu 676-7233

If you need help to stop using harmful substances, you can call:

BabySAFE: 696-1594 or Malama Recovery: 668-2277

WAI'ANAE HIGH SCHOOL CULINARY PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

Vince Dodge (center) instructs Waianae High School students Ernani Alejo (left) and Keola Hirakawa (right) on how to prepare and pound fresh kalo. Kalo pounding is one of the many activities funded by the Administration for Native Americans (ANA) grant, which supports cultural preservation and child development.

Chef Daniel Kahalioumi (right) teaches Waianae High School students how to prepare traditional dishes for a family lu'au. This culinary curriculum, also sponsored by ANA, provides hands-on experience for students interested in the food industry.
